West Fulton High School

Atlanta, Georgia

Will we

. . . that special year filled with study, and fun?

. . . that year which brought such teachers to augment our fine

. . . that year which marked Mr. Langston's 10th year as our principal?

. . . that year when Dr. Letson became Superintendent of Atlanta Schools?

. . . that year when we elected the Nation's youngest president?

. . . that year—1960-61?

Best wishes to a real nice boy who makes me proud to be called his friend. May the best in life always be yours. your friend Frank Cabral

Best wishes for a future filled always with happiness and success. Regards of Frank to a very nice and sweet boy. General Rowe

The morning surprised students were tapped by the Beta Club in recognition of their outstanding scholastic achievement?

Those mornings we met before school to cheer the team?

The Snowball,

The football banquet where players and cheerleaders received awards?

The skit presented by the FTA, in which the teachers proved that turnabout is fair play?

one of the social highlights of the school year?

The informal dances held after the football games?

The big tree furnished and decorated by the West Fulton Student Council

That exciting day when Seniors flocked to the library to get their rings?

Those coke parties which offered an escape from school work and an opportunity to let off steam?

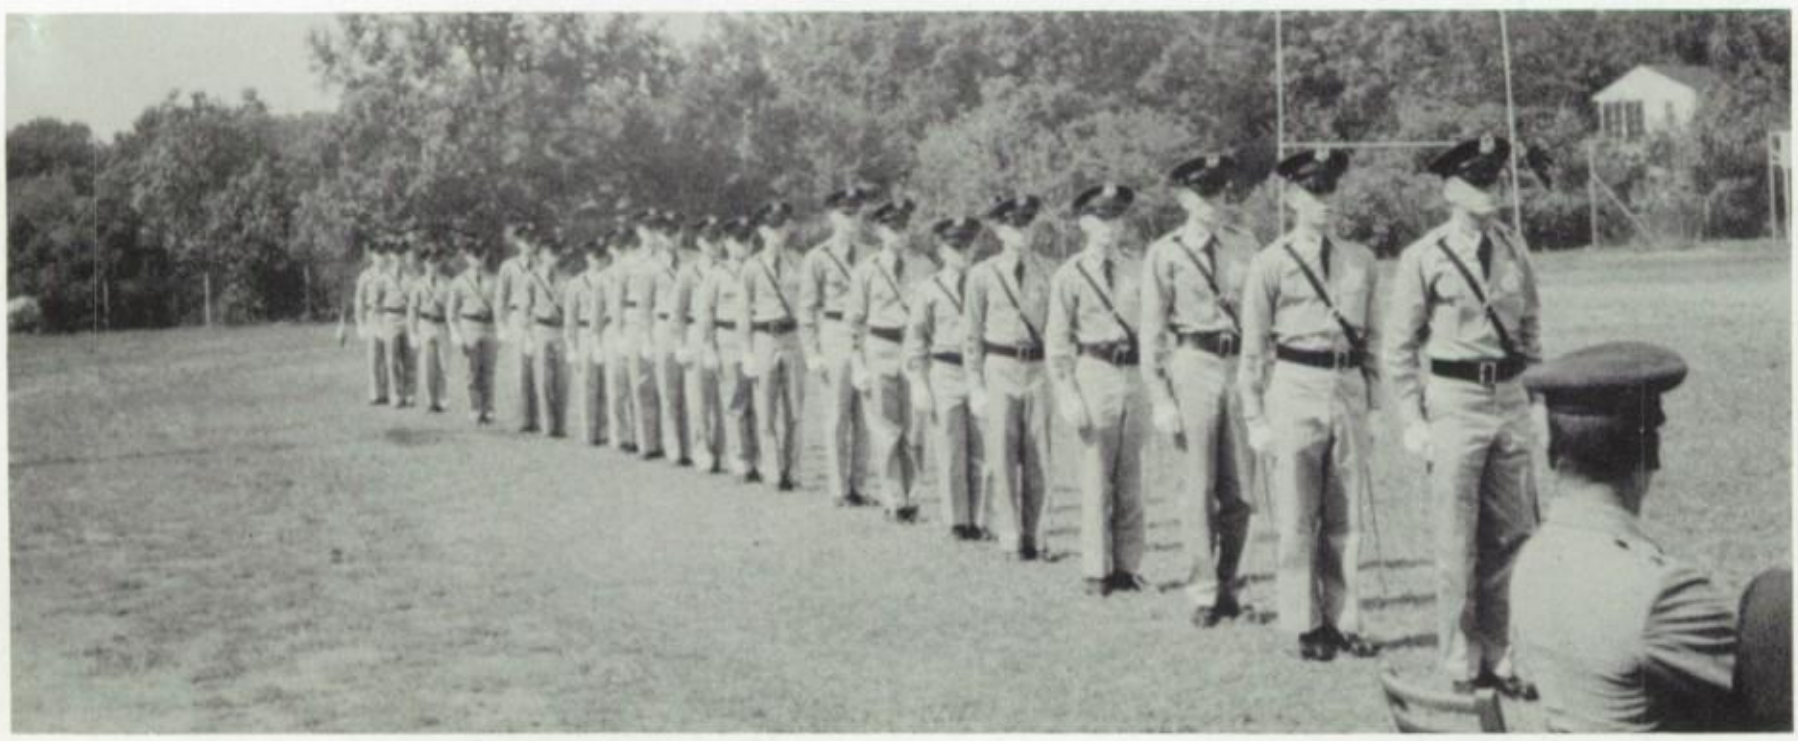
Blue-and-white day when Seniors wore school colors?

The pep rallies which boosted our school spirit and pride?

Thanksgiving, when we shared our blessing with those less fortunate than we?

The night the Judges had the problem of choosing a home-coming queen?

The day Seniors wore their Sunday Best?



Sabre Day, when proud officers received their sabres?

During his years at West Fulton Mr. Shelnutt has earned the respect of all who know him. Students and teachers alike recognize his ability to provide sound advice and his readiness to be of service. Mr. Shelnutt carries out with efficiency his responsibilities as counselor, but we of the Annual Staff feel that he has gone far beyond his required duties in his endeavors to be of assistance to the students of West Fulton.

We dedicate this book

There are many phases to school studies—one of the most enjoyable being bringing literature to life through acting.

'READIN'' and 'WRITIN,'' 'SPELLIN,' and 'GRAMMER''SPEAKIN'' and 'LISTENIN''

Miss Mathis is proud of the bulletin board which she explains to Miss Webb

Mr. Cook, Miss Rabun, and Mrs. Reynolds discuss schedules for extra English classes

The English Department, which enrolls every student in West Fulton, is the largest department we have. Reading and writing have been taught since kindergarten but in high school it reaches the extent of Shakespeare and three-thousand word themes. The accelerated classes, which have come into effect this year, are a great help to both students and teachers. Much more can be accomplished by separating students into leveled groups. Learning English involves listening as well as speaking. You can tell a person's education by the way he speaks. All these principles, which better prepare the students for their futures, are taught at West Fulton.

Mr. Locklear lectures as his class takes notes

Making up tests comes easy for Miss Bryson, Miss Haney, and Mrs. Benscoter

In order to learn, you must be interested and alert

Linda Goldston, Sandra Cannon, and Patsy Ayers demonstrate the witches in Macbeth

An English project assignment brought forth this Elizabethian theater

Miss Webb consoles her Senior English class after the test on Macbeth

A wordy atmosphere surrounds Mr. Locklear, Miss Formby and Mrs. Cline

Miss Mathis gives help to a student concerning word placement

'ADDIN''

Mr. Walls seems to enjoy his class of girls

'SUBTRACTIN''

Mr. Barnes finds a few students prefer to examine the room

'MULTIPLYIN'

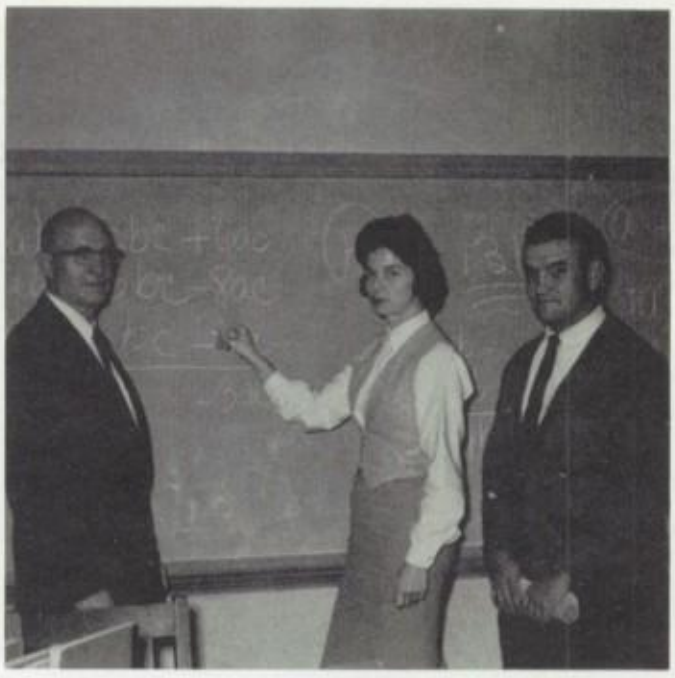
Students find algebra very different from ordinary math

Adding, subtracting and multiplying do not completely cover the realm of the Mathematics Department. Things like x plus y equals z and "why isn't a square a triangle" are also proven and studied to the fullest. Our Math department encompasses everything from basic math to trigonometry, including algebra and geometry. Students with this background in math are competently prepared for a college career. Grouped classes have proven to be of benefit to all students. Advanced students have a chance to prepare for technical studies while other students are better able to understand the math they are studying without rushing on to more advanced studies. The study of Mathematics adapted to the student and his interests is the purpose and aim of this department.

Classwork brings questions from Mrs. Wyndelts' class

Mr. Thompson, Mr. Redford and Mr. Bush find some math not so hard but rather funny

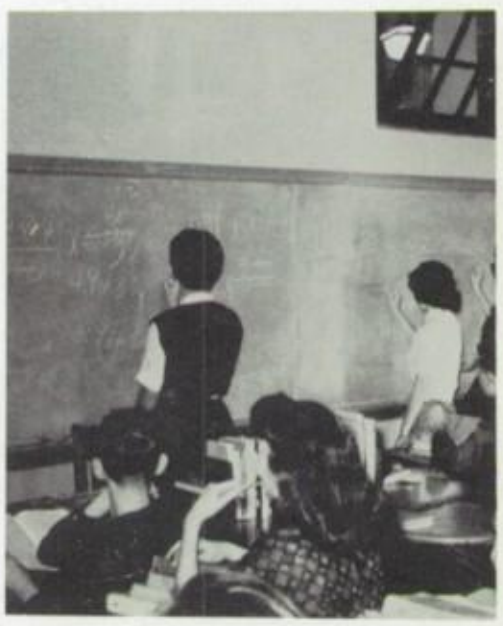
Mr. Clark has a student demonstrate a geometry problem while he does the same



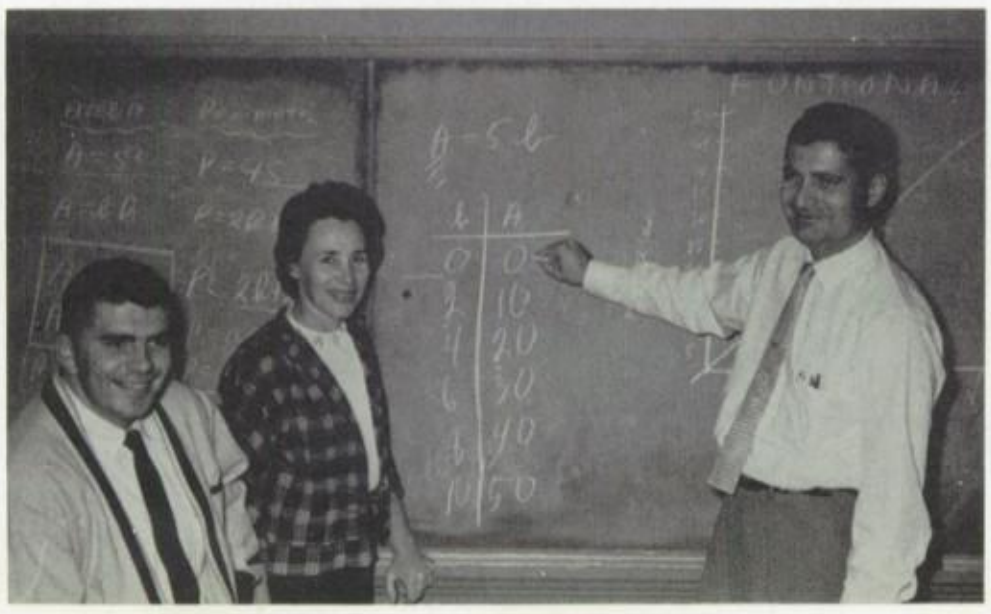
Working a problem together helps Mr. Barnes, Miss Lowe, and Mr. Walls prepare for their classes

The threat of doing board work keeps some of Miss Lowe's students busy at their seats

Mr. Walls prepares his students for a math test



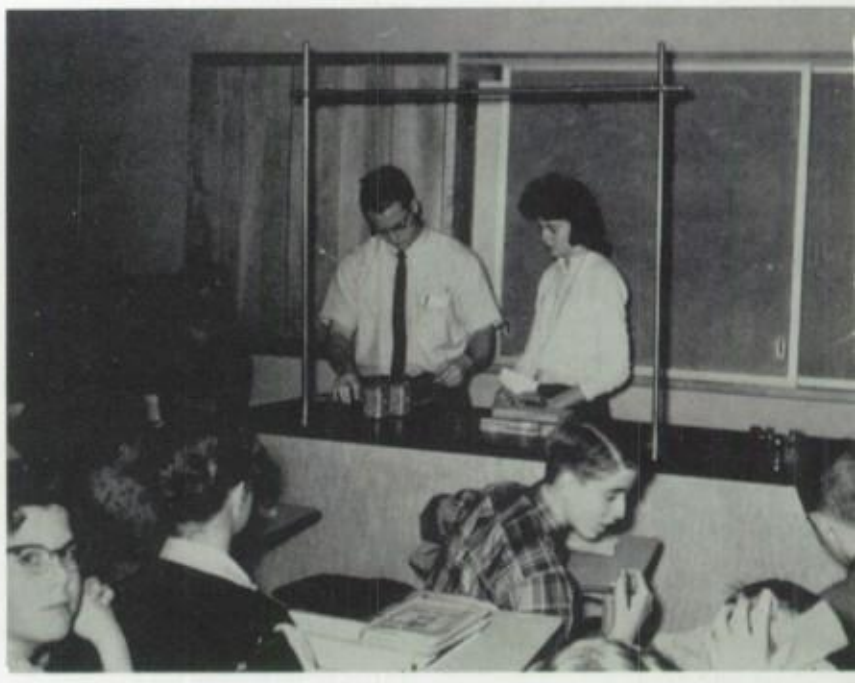
These students demonstrate the homework problems for the class



Mr. Clark explains a new number system to Mrs. Wyndelts and Mr. Olson

ROCKETS, ANIMALS, AND BONES

Grasshoppers are dissected by the Biology classes. These girls will be glad when they are through.



Mr. Casey makes a demonstration with batteries

Mr. Fredrickson attempts to frighten "Doc" Cash with "George" but Doc is very familiar with George after so many years of friendship

Doc Cash prepares a chemistry experiment for his class

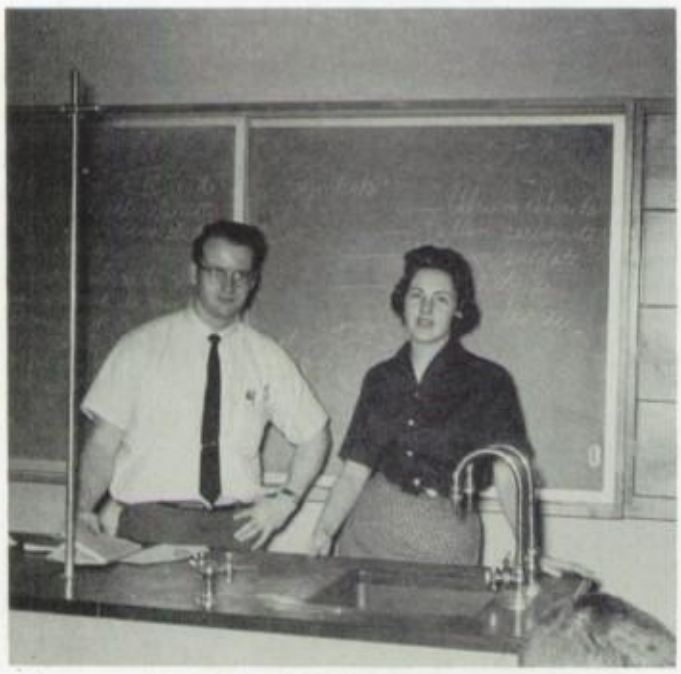
Is Mrs. Alembik making faces at her science class?

We can't see it, but Mr. Frederickson's class is watching the procedure for dissecting a pig

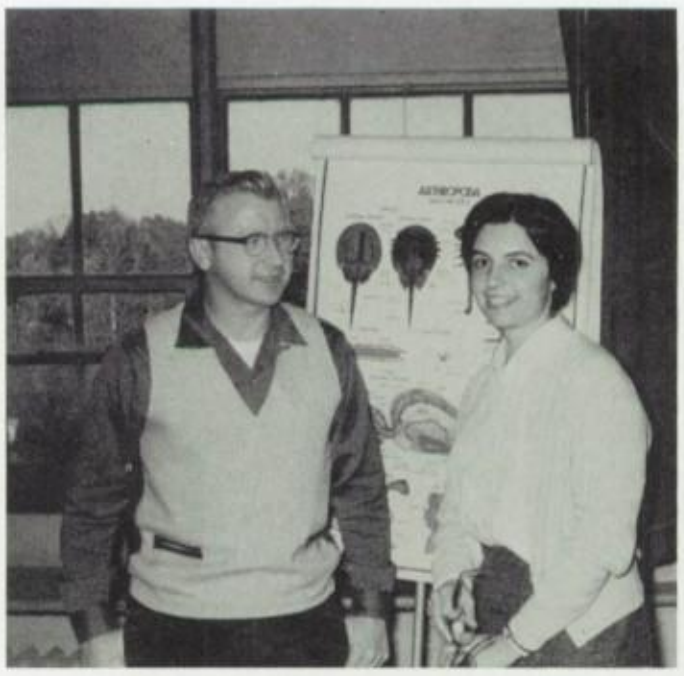
Doc Cash adjusts the T.V.'s for the General Science classes

Senior students prepare for a chemistry experiment

The study of animals makes up the science of biology and some of the students turn a little pale when it comes time to dissect the grasshopper, and even more pale when the frogs are passed out. Physics and Chemistry prepare some students for the new age of rockets. Bones rattle as the human biology students bring out George to examine him and learn his many parts. After frogs comes the adventure of dissecting a pig. One's reaction to this may well change his life, thus science commands a big role in the life of our students. Basic Science in the eighth grade and General Science in the ninth round out the science program offered to each student.



Mr. Casey and Miss Haavie, two of our new teachers, have added much to the science department



Mr. McGehee and Mrs. Alembik converse on the chart which helps many students in biology

Around The World In Five Years

A student is called on to give an oral reading

Miss Hughes prepares her World Geography class for a test

Mrs. Hagood's World History class enjoys map study

Students begin their social studies career at West Fulton in the eighth grade with courses in Civics and Georgia History. Then, in the ninth grade, they have the opportunity to travel through the texts, maps, and movies of World Geography. The tenth grade brings antiquity to life in World History where everything is studied from Ancient Gaul to the New Frontier. Flags wave—drums roll, as the interesting panorama of American History unfolds in the eleventh grade. Finally, as Seniors, we take a look at American Government, studying the origin, evolution, and continuance of our democratic process of law. Each course is designed to equip the student to be a better citizen and prepare him to take his place in society.

Mr. Price and Mrs. Hagood are familiar faces around West Fulton. They have taught many of us to appreciate the histories of the universe.

Mr. Yoder and Mr. McDonald discuss plans for class lectures and for the field trips their classes take

These students struggle through a final exam on Friday the 13th

Mr. Davis, Mrs. Moss and Mr. Fredericks are becoming old hands at West Fulton. They teach most of the lower grades in history

Mr. Yoder lectures to his classes

These seniors take a test in American Government in order to graduate

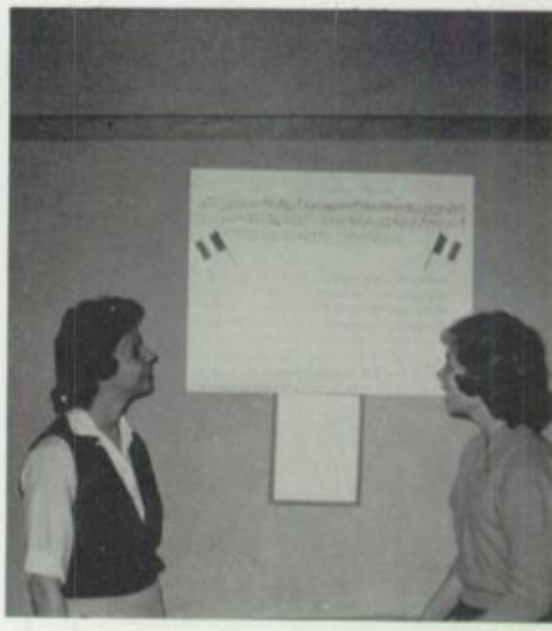
A student is called on to explain a map during class

Mr. Davis watches as his students take a test

ROMANCE LANGUAGES

Spanish students gather around for their turn to hit the paper star from Mexico

Mrs. Perry enjoys talking to her classes in French and Spanish, the two subjects she teaches



Students practice French Christmas carols

Romance languages doesn't mean the little whispered words one hears on moonlight nights. At West Fulton it stands for French and Spanish, which causes many students to have unromantic thoughts. The result is worth the effort though, for every student enrolled in the Language Department leaves West Fulton with an understanding and an appreciation of these languages.

PAPER, PEN AND PASTE

Working with the clay is fun as well as educational

Miss Thompson teaches her classes to appreciate art as well as to do it

The beginning students work on a stuffed doll

The Art Department has uncovered many artistic talents among the students of West Fulton. This department is responsible for many beautiful displays in the halls and on bulletin boards. The appreciation of art as well as the application of art is taught, thus developing the students outlook on life.

'DRAWIN'' and 'SAWIN''

These classes may lead to a technical career

Mr. Reinhold and Mr. Sims discuss ideas for workshop and drawing classes

Mr. Sims gives help to his students as they work

The courses in Industrial Art may lead many students to a technical education and even a technical career. Mechanical drawing prepares students for making blueprints and gives them the ability to be a "Mr. Fix-it." Eighth and ninth grade boys are mainly concerned with woodshop. They later go into mechanical drawing, and then they may go into advanced drawing, thus completing their career in the Industrial Arts Department.

Mr. Thompson gives help to a student during class

Boys in woodshop learn the carpenter trade, which will be of use to them always

Mr. Thompson watches as a student makes a change in his drawing

'TYPIN,'' 'BOOKKEEPIN'' AND 'SHORTHAND'

The advanced typing group transcribes the shorthand they have just taken

Business transactions go through Mr. Clower's room

Mrs. Lacy and Mr. Clower add much to our department. Their helpfulness to the school as well as their teaching make them valuable assets to us.

Bookkeeping comes hard for some and easier for others

Mrs. Palmer prepares her first year typing class to take a timed test

Miss Pace and Miss Magruder prepare many of our students for office work after high school

Miss Hughes and Mrs. Palmer prepare the stencil machine to run off copies of the "OWL"

The responsibility of training girls and boys for their life in the business world lies on the shoulders of the Commercial Department. The achievements of these students are due to the excellent supervision administered by the teachers in this department.

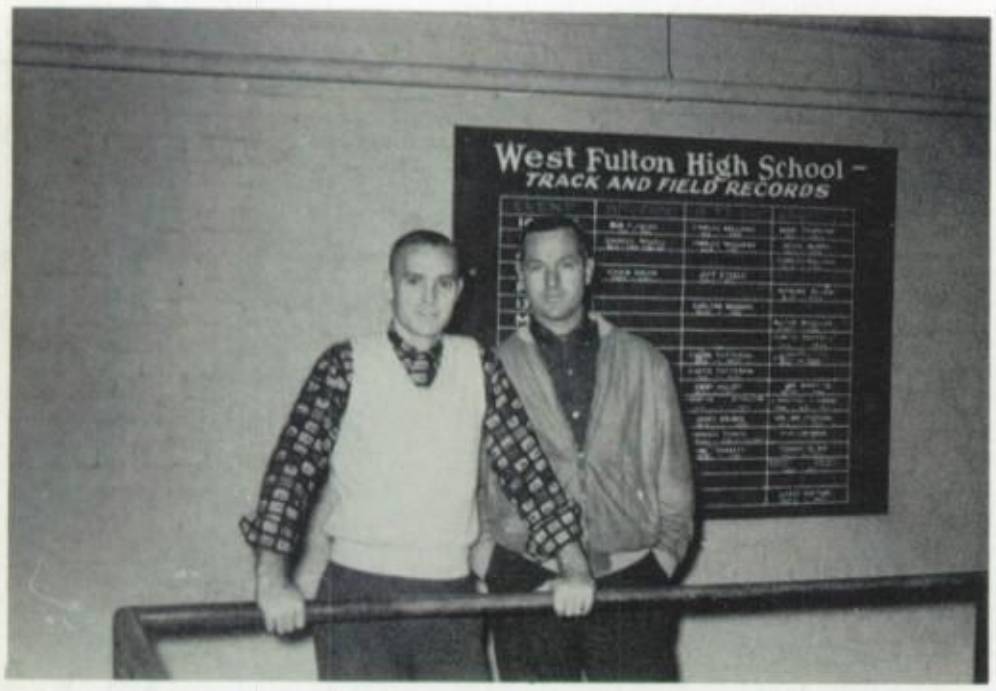
Such subjects as shorthand, typing, office practice, bookkeeping, business arithmetic, economics and salesmanship are offered. After completing a commercial course of study, students are ready to compete with the business world for their places.

Miss Magruder helps a student change the ribbon in a typewriter

These students are taking a timed typing test

Transcription can become confusing

Stretchin' and Growin'



Mr. Jenkins and Mr. Wyrick are in charge of the boys' section in P.E.

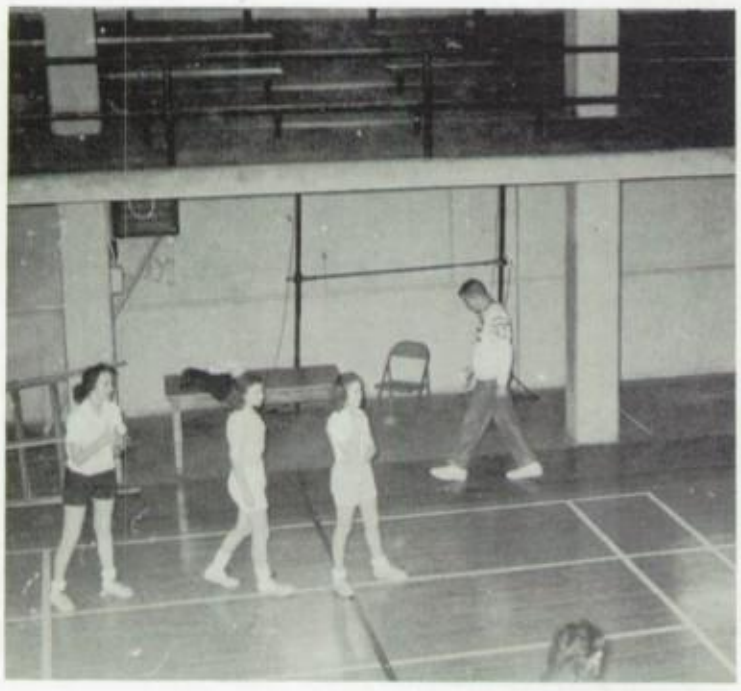
Building the body is one of the most important tasks that we undertake. The Physical Education we receive during our first two years at West Fulton gets us started on the right track. Football, basketball, and baseball are enjoyed by the boys along with the study of health. Sportsmanship and fair play constitute an integral part of each sport.

These boys exercise during P.E. class

The baseball game leaves one boy all alone in outfield

Touch football interests the boys, especially in warm weather

Bendin' and Playin'



The girls warm up for a game of basketball

The girls learn the new dance steps of the day

The girls also study health. They participate in basketball, volleyball, softball, and dancing. In order to be well rounded a student must be a healthy person as well as a smart person. The training received in Physical Education gives the students a well-rounded, healthy outlook on life.

Miss Boyken and Miss Tindall prepare a schedule for the girls' classes

'COOKIN'' AND 'NURSIN,'' 'SEWIN'' AND 'MODELIN'

Girls at West Fulton learn to iron properly and to operate the sewing machine

Mrs. Mentzer, Mrs. Dixon, Miss Hamby teach all the girls the basic necessities of making a home

Learning to cook helps the girls to develop the "little woman" trait that men love

Every girl in the eighth and ninth grades has a chance to take advantage of the homemaking courses at West Fulton. Girls in the upper grades are allowed to take advanced homemaking, which gives them a better background in sewing, cooking and child care. The fundamentals of running a home are taught in order to provide better homemakers and better homes for the future. Courses in sewing give the girls a chance to vary their wardrobe, and to learn how to dress well. Cooking interests many senior boys who learn that there is more to cooking than just boiling water. Everyone leaves homemaking with a better understanding of nutrition and diet.

After making the clothes the girls give a fashion show to model them

Sometimes the task of placing a pattern becomes very complicated

Outfits were modeled for the girls to give them ideas for new winter clothes

THE SHOULDERS WE LEAN ON

Mrs. Summerour and Mrs. Sorrells, our secretaries, are always ready to be cheerful and helpful. They help prevent confusion throughout our school days.

Mrs. Newman and Mr. Shelnut, our counselors, help us with our schedules, make College Day and Career Day a success, and help us choose our colleges and professions

Mrs. Gray, our nurse, is there to give comfort and aide to our headaches and broken toes. An aspirin cures anything, that is, when it is issued with Mrs. Gray's friendliness and her smile.

Mrs. Rudminat, our dietitian, is an essential working part of our school. We must eat and she provides us with some of the best meals in the city. She works long hours to plan and present our noon time meal to us.

Our Librarians, Mrs. Cade and Mrs. Hughes, keep this essential part of our school work in running order. They are always willing to help a student find a book or a reference.

The Girl's Sextet

Miss Mitchell, and Miss O'Kelly lead our music department forward with a variety of new music this year

Officers of the Mixed Choir

The vocal music department gives many opportunities to girls and boys to present many enjoyable programs to the student body at West Fulton. They deliver a Thanksgiving program, a Christmas program and a Spring Concert for the enjoyment of everyone. In the spring they also attend a festival where they are graded on performance. In past years they have received very high honors and they are working so that the record will not be broken this year. Some students from the music classes may later become professional singers. Students begin in the eighth grade with General Music. In the ninth grade they may advance to the well trained choruses for which the music department is famous.

The Eighth grade classes begin to learn . . .

VARSITY FOOTBALL

"Oh, when our team comes out upon the field"

VARSITY COACHES
Olsen, Bush, Redford

The West Fulton football team of 1960 displayed outstanding athletic ability and sportsmanship in earning a wonderful record of 7 victories and 3 losses. The OWLS started the season off with an exciting come-from-behind victory over Fulton, 13-7. Next the Warriors from Bass were overwhelmed 13-2. Showing their offensive might the "Bankhead Bombers" rolled over Smith 31-7. East Atlanta was the next opponent and they were overpowered by the score of 46-12. The following week was Homecoming and though the OWLS fought courageously they lost to a fine Southwest team 26-0. Eager for revenge the OWLS, after an off week, defeated George 21-0. The Rebels were then turned back by the score of 18-6. In one of the most exciting games of the season West Fulton outscored Sylvan 26-20. Northside's Tigers provided the next foe for the colorful OWLS and in the heartbreaker of the season West Fulton fell 14-13 on a controversial last minute PAT. Our final game was with O'Keefe and though our boys gave all they had, the Irish won 7-6.

"The Owls"

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Co-Captains
Donnie Edwards and Bobby Hulsey

The Varsity Team started off the sub-region basketball season by playing determined basketball. However, in a very tight game the Owls were edged 54-52 by George. Then the Owls put on an offensive show at Therrell and won 77-40. In the next three games the Varsity fought hard, but fell to taller and more experienced Brown, Southwest, and Sylvan. Rebounding from these losses, the Owls crushed Dykes 77-58. Against Northside the W. F. team strove hard for victory, but the taller Tigers prevailed, 79-51. Next the Owls clashed with O'Keefe and in a close game the Irish won 48-42.

In the second round of the sub-region play the Owls played with determination and desire, but lack of height hurt them. After losing to George, 66-51, the Varsity piled up their highest score against Therrell, winning 90-45. Brown, Southwest, and Sylvan defeated the Owls 70-62, 72-57, and 79-52. Then the W. F. cagers whipped Dykes 85-65. In the last two games of the season Northside beat the Owls 83-55 and O'Keefe won in a heartbreaker for Owl fans, 46-44.

Although the Owls' record was not too impressive this year many members of this year's team will return next year and prospects are bright for next year's season.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The West Fulton girls' team started off the sub-region basketball season with a bang by defeating the first three teams they played. First George High was beaten 48-30, then Therrell was crushed 35-13, and Brown was overrun by the score of 32-10. Although the Owls battled the Wolves of Southwest with determination and valor, they were defeated 48-34. Bouncing back from defeat the girls quickly beat Sylvan 41-22 and Dykes 68-34. In the next game the Northside Tigers were the opposition, and in an extremely close and hard-fought game the Owls were edged 40-39. Then the W.F. team came back and defeated O'Keefe in another close one, 39-37.

In the second round of sub-region play the Owls continued their winning ways by whipping George 58-29, Therrell 49-14, and Brown 61-25. Against Southwest the Owls fought fiercely but fell on the short end of a 38-34 score. W.F.'s next two foes were beaten with little trouble. Sylvan fell 38-23 and Dykes was beaten 43-28. Northside dealt the girls their only other loss 54-46, even though the Owls played with zeal. In the last game against O'Keefe the Owls emerged victorously once again by the score of 50-40.

The W.F. girls had an excellent season record of twelve wins and only four losses, and they wound up in third place in the Western Division.

The West Fulton Rifle Team successfully defended their City League Title by winning every one of their matches against city foes.

The Owls were so accurate in their firing that they placed third in the Third Army Area. For doing this they won a William Randolph Hearst Trophy.

One of the highlights of the season was the record score of 1347 fired by the Owls. This broke their old record of 1324.

Congratulations to the Rifle Team and their coach, Sergeant Misiak, for their outstanding record and season.

ANTHONY RUEL CLAXTON

Tony Claxton, well-known for his wit and superb personality, can certainly be labeled an outstanding senior. His dependability blended with his great personality has enabled him to become a most respected and likable student. Working as president of the Senior Cabinet, Tony has succeeded in making West Fulton's Senior Class of 1961 one that will not be forgotten for sometime. His outstanding character, without a doubt, has made him a most valuable addition to West Fulton.

JOYCE EARLINE GAY

With her warm, friendly, and radiant smile, added to her consistent concern for the welfare of others, Joyce has earned, and rightfully so, the respect and admiration of both students and faculty. During her entire career at West Fulton she has "majored" in kindness, thoughtfulness, and helpfulness, frequently going over and beyond the call of duty. She is a faithful, loyal, and persevering student with exceptional strength of character. Furthermore, her academic growth and unfoldment, filled with efficient service for others, has been most gratifying to all who know her

RICHARD ALFRED REINHOLD

During the five years he has been at West Fulton, Richard Reinhold has established a reputation consisting of thoughtfulness and dependability. He is admired and respected by his classmates and most assuredly deserved the office of President of the Student Body which he held in his senior year. These characteristics along with his high scholastic achievement make Richard a most outstanding student

Outstanding Senior

MARY LYNN RITCHEY

Bright, witty, charming, and humorous characterize the personality of Mary Lynn Ritchey. These traits, combined with her sincerity and sense of responsibility add up to an outstanding student indeed. Doing her work in a willing and cooperative manner, Mary Lynn has been admired and respected by both students and teachers throughout her high school life. She is very near to epitomizing the ideal student.
